About MORE Field Guide College

MORE Field Guide College is situated within Marataba Game Reserve – MORE's 23 000ha private section within the malaria-free Marakele National Park, which forms part of the greater UNESCO Waterberg Biosphere Reserve. Dramatic mountains, vast plains, rich animal diversity, and flowing rivers characterise this spectacular area that, as its Setswana name suggests, is a place of sanctuary.

At the MORE Field Guide college camp we offer top training facilities and very comfortable accommodation. There is a large common area (with internet access, a PC, library, and games room), a swimming pool, and spacious tents on stilts (each including a twin-bed set, en-suite bathroom, hot water, electricity, and a deck). Here, you can fall asleep to the call of nightjars and wake to study while watching elephants.

We train guides of an exceptional calibre and all of our courses are FGASA/CATHSSETA accredited. Students might also be exposed to wildlife management, as we work closely with the ecologists in the park. After completing the 6-month course, there is potential for a 6-month placement – an amazing stepping-stone for a career in Ecotourism!

While remote, our college is only 1 hour's drive from the town of Thabazimbi (Limpopo), where one can get all necessary supplies, and about 3.5 hours from the main cities of Pretoria and Johannesburg (Gauteng).
